

Title CSOP Ultrasound

Version No: 1.1

Effective date: 26/04/2021

Appendix 2: Training

The basic standard is RCEM level 1 or equivalent. See www.rcem.ac.uk > exams & training > UK trainees > ultrasound training.

Those TAAS doctors not already scanning these indications in their NHS practice are encouraged to complete a formal Level 1 ultrasound course and follow the standard pathway to independent sign off or equivalent from their parent speciality, ideally through their NHS employment.

TAAS HEMS Paramedics will be offered the opportunity take an RCEM approved Level 1 course. After this a period of logbook development and supervised scanning will be required, leading up to a sign off for independent practice, probably at an independent finishing school. Only after this sign off is complete will independent practice be approved. This may be updated over the next year by clinical notice as the system develops, and COVID restrictions are lifted.
